Disciplinary Note

During the recent primary election campaign, several candidates for judicial office who had never been members of the judiciary ran newspaper advertisements which used expressions from which a reader might infer that the candidates had judicial experience:

"A Judge Who Will Serve with Integrity"

"A Judge With experience in District Court"

Such statements could be interpreted by the public to mean the candidate has judicial experience. The Chief Disciplinary Counsel contacted the candidates and received assurances that there would be no repetition of such advertising statements during the general election campaign.
Accordingly, no disciplinary action was taken. Judicial candidates should be aware, however, that henceforth such statements will be viewed as attempts to deceive the electorate.
Disciplinary Rule 1-102 (A)
(4) prohibits an attorney from engaging in conduct that involves deceit, fraud or misrepresentation. □

Quality in Management Seminar Offered

The Robert O. Anderson
Schools of Management, University of New Mexico, in cooperation with Signetics, Albuquerque, is offering a one day symposium tailored for upper and middle management executives. "The Quality Revolution in Management" symposium is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 12 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the Rio Grande Room of the Sheraton Old Town Inn, Albuquerque.

During the symposium three main topics of quality in management with different perspectives on each will be presented. Topics will include background information and recent history of the quality revolution, applications of quality in a business or organizational setting for increasing profitability, and why quality is important for small business and service organizations. Also, there will be a panel discussion with opportunities for questions from participants.

For further information call the Management Development Center of the Robert O.
Anderson Schools of Management at (505) 277-4638 or 277-2525. The program fee of $35.00 includes the program, materials and lunch. □

practically be productive for income for the client.
It has nothing to do with money that can be made productive for clients.

"Indeed, I think everywhere in the United States the courts have emphasized that if money can be made available for clients it should be. In fact, since the advent of these programs in 1981, lawyers have been sensitized for the first time to the fact that they very frequently hold $5, $10, $20, $25 thousand dollars for a client for a long period of time at rates as high as 20%, now 14 or 15%, which should have been made productive for clients, but lawyers did not
